

Guidelines for Applying To MAT Institutes (Dec. 09)

Step1: Find “Composite Percentage Below Score” from your MAT score card & refer to the table given below for finding the Range of institute/s you can apply for. You must note that “Composite Percentage below Score” is the only significant figure in MAT score card, on the basis of which B- schools process the applications.

| “Composite Percentage Below Score” in MAT | Institute Range | Important Note |
|---|-----------------|---|
| More than 85 | A ⁺⁺ | The range given in this table is made while keeping in mind the probability of getting & Converting a call at a specific score & is indicative only. If any candidate is confident about good performance in GD/PI then, he/she can apply to institute/s in higher ranking category. |
| Between 60 & 85 | A ⁺ | |
| Less than 60 | A | |

Step2:

Refer to the Institute table (Prepared From Dec 09 MAT Bulletin & other sources) which falls in your score range & apply as soon as possible to couple of institutes from the selected table by getting their brochure & completing other formalities. For application procedure you must refer to the Individual Institute Notification given in the MAT Bulletin. Out of the institutes mentioned in MAT Bulletin & some other institutes which accept MAT scores we have shortlisted some institutes based on the inputs we have received from the faculty, alumni and other sources. We suggest and recommend students to apply from these selected institutes only.

- Like CAT you have to apply to different institutes by getting their forms & should not wait for any letter from institute/s falling in your range, at the same time do not pay attention to any letter which you receive from the institutes which are not falling in your range.
- The Five institutes you have marked while filling the MAT form hold no significance in entire admission process in MAT, so just ignore it.
- For all the institutes given in tables where website is mentioned, although the name does not figure in MAT Bulletin but these institutes accept MAT Score. For more information you can visit respective website.
